Program Descriptions

Survival Spanish - NEW!

The purpose of this course is to teach learners how to get along in the Spanish speaking world. Communicative tools which are likely to be present in different situations are taught in order for learners to become successful as they need to interact in a wide range of everyday contexts.

Spanish for Travelers - NEW!

The aim of this course is to familiarize you with spoken Spanish in typical travel situations. It will teach you the language easily and also give you cultural information.

Spanish for the Clergy - NEW!

This course has been designed to help members of the clergy, family counselors, and welfare workers who have a beginning level of Spanish, better their conversational skills through an informal and practical approach. Enough practice of the language is included in order to help learners interact with Spanish speaking community members.

El español en el mundo de los negocios

Because of the growing importance of Spanish in the business world, the demand for practical commercial Spanish courses is growing. Yet, to date, there have been very few courses designed to meet this need. This program fulfills the requirements of bilingual commercial courses by focusing on 12 major business fields and presenting technical vocabulary, dialogues and models of business letters, as well as samples of commercial papers (such as credit and shipping documents) necessary to function in these fields.

Spanish for Social Services

This course is designed to meet the vocabulary and communication requirements of those working in the field of social services as they deal with the Hispanic community on a daily basis. Language development is accomplished through a wide variety of opportunities to apply new vocabulary and grammatical structures in many practical contexts. Special attention is given to the everyday problems confronted by those working in the Department of Social Services. All of the skill areas of reading, writing, speaking, and listening are emphasized.

Special courses for Teachers and school personnel

This course was designed to assist teachers who need to communicate with the Spanish speaking members of the school community regarding student progress. It is intended, for the use of staff members who do not have the services of a translator. Through use of vocabulary lists, sentence patterns can easily be transformed to build sentences appropriate for specific situations.

Spanish for Household Management

With more women pursuing careers, many households are faced with the dilemma of looking for quality domestic help to assist them with household duties. Often, those individuals that are most qualified to help out with children and housework speak Spanish as their first language. Our Spanish language institute has prepared a course that will specifically address the communication needs confronted by families in these circumstances.

Spanish for the Hotel / Restaurant management - NEW!

The purpose of this course is to prepare hotel and restaurant management staffers to work with Spanish speaking personnel ranging from upper management to back of the house staff by spontaneously creating real life hospitality experiences.

Communicative Grammar - NEW!

Spanish courses for beginners' levels. This course has been designed to have plenty of interaction with the basic rules of Spanish and idioms in order to achieve mastery of the language. In addition, the course also focuses attention on linguistic differences between Spanish and English.

Spanish for Business and Finance

Our Spanish for Business and Finance Course introduces our learners to realistic situations and the specialized vocabulary that business and finance professionals need to communicate with Hispanic members of the community in the course of their daily work. Personalized questions, grammar exercises, role-plays, reality-based activities, and translation and interpretation tasks provide students with numerous opportunities to apply their newly acquired knowledge in a wide variety of practical context, the course content includes, one preliminary lesson, twenty regular lessons, and four review sections. The complete course is covered in a total of 60 contact hours, which is the equivalent to 3 weeks in our private tutoring intensive language program.

Spanish for Medical Personnel

This course presents realistic situations and the specialized vocabulary that health-care professionals need to communicate with Hispanic patients in the course of their daily work. Language development is accomplished through a wide variety of opportunities to apply new vocabulary and grammatical structures in many practical contexts. A preliminary presentation of the Spanish vocabulary for human anatomy is included. All of the skill areas of reading, writing, speaking, and listening are emphasized.

Spanish for Teachers

This course focuses on the special needs and situations confronted by teachers when dealing with Hispanic students in their classrooms and their parents. Language development is accomplished through a wide variety of opportunities to apply new vocabulary and grammatical structures in many practical contexts. Vocabulary and grammatical structures unique to teachers is developed through a very communicative approach. All of the skill areas of reading, writing, speaking, and listening are emphasized.

Spanish for Law Enforcement

As most major cities face the demand for larger numbers of police officers, fire fighters, parole officers, and social workers that are fluent in the Spanish language, we have designed a course that specifically targets their very unique language needs. Studies have shown that crime and violence significantly decrease as the level of communication increases in a community.

Beginning Spanish for Teachers of Hispanic Students - NEW!

This course has been designed for teachers who need to have knowledge of Spanish as a second language in order for them to communicate with students whose English is not fluent. This course helps you with matters such as: greeting a child, giving directions for classroom activities and more.

Spanish for Educators - NEW!

This course relates basic grammar knowledge to conversational Spanish. It is designed for educators who want to develop their ability to comprehend and make themselves understood in normal idiomatic Spanish. This course helps learners to converse in Spanish when dealing with issues that go from health care to extracurricular activities.
